Five more Mumbai nurses test positive

The total number of infected nurses in the city rises to eight; medical community complains about lack of protective equipment. Four doctors infected too

Five more nurses in Mumbai have tested positive for the novel coronavirus, officials said on Wednesday, adding to the three cases reported last week. The change comes even as the medical community continues to complain about a lack of personal protective equipment for those in the frontline of the fight against the pandemic.

Four doctors in Mumbai have already tested positive after working in contact with infected people.

Healthcare workers who have tested for COVID-19 are all being sent off to quarantine. The
